Drys Lost At Last In One Big Fight

Residence District Option Bill Killed In Session Ending At Day light.

Springfield, June 21.—The drys lost one of their big fights in the Illinois legislature when they failed early today to get the "residence district option" bill off the speaker's desk in the lower house. The measure which would allow voters to establish anti-saloon territory in districts containing 300 to 5,000 ballots, was fought bitterly but passed both houses.

Then it was found that the senate had amended the measure slightly and that it could not go to the governor unless the house concurred in the changes. Efforts of "dry" leaders to bring the bill up again in the house failed just before adjournment at dawn.

No further business is to be transacted by the legislature at this session.

ADJOURNMENT IN DAYLIGHT.

Springfield, June 21.—It was broad daylight when the general assembly this morning recessed until June 30. Then a special session will be held before sine die adjournment for the purpose of receiving any communication which Governor Dunne may have to transmit.

The house adjourned at 4:20 o'clock, the senate at 4:45.

RESIDENCY BILL DEAD.

Representative George H. Wilson the dry leader, remained in the house until the final fall of the gavel, hoping to be permitted to call up the residence district bill, which was on the speaker's desk for concurrence in the senate amendments. The house having failed to concur in the amendments the bill is dead.

ANTI-PASS BILL TOO.

The anti-pass bill also died in the house, after passing the senate some days ago. It occurred as a part of the program on the house side in retaliation for the defeat in the senate of the bill increasing the salary of members from $2,000 to $5,000 for the two years' term.

TEN HOUR LAW AMENDED.

Springfield, June 21. The legislature during its session just closed passed, among others, these bills:

Senate bill amending the ten hour labor law by exempting from its provisions women employed in the canning industry during the canning season, and providing they shall not be employed more than seventy hours a week or more than five and one-half hours consecutively without a recess of at least thirty minutes.

SECRETARY GETS $5,000

Senate bill creating a legislative reference bureau of five members consisting of the governor and chairmen of the house and senate committees on appropriation and judiciary, the bureau to prepare a budget of appropriations and recommendations for the general assembly. The governor will appoint a secretary at a salary of $5,000 a year.

Senate bill establishing maximum railway fare of 2½ cents a mile for children between six and twelve years old.

TO PROBE SANITARY DISTRICT.

The house concurred in senate joint resolution number 32, providing for appointment of a joint commission of five members from each house, to investigate the condition of the walls of the sanitary district in and around Joliet.

LICENSE BILL FAILS.

Springfield, June 21.—Senate bill legalizing the transfer of saloon licenses, was given another tryout in the house at the afternoon session and failed to pass. It received seventy-five affirmative votes, two short of a constitutional majority.

Representative Catlin told the house that he had called upon Governor Dunne and had been informed by the executive that he would veto the license bill if, in the opinion of the attorney general, it created a vested interest.

TAX LEVY BILLS.

The tax levy bill for the next two years provides that $10,600,000 shall be raised annually for general purposes and that $3,000,000 shall be raised annually in lieu of the mill tax for school purposes. Total levy for two years beginning July 1, is $27,200,000.

The miners qualification act, creating a state board of examiners of miners and requiring all coal miners to pass an examination before beginning work, passed the legislature.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP ACT.

The municipal ownership bill as passed authorizes cities to purchase, furnish and sell public utilities and legalizes operation of utilities now owned by municipalities.

WIDOW'S PENSION BILL.

The widows' pension bill provides for a pension of not more than $15 a month for one child and for not more than $10 a month for each additional child under fourteen years.

NINE HOUR BILL KILLED.

The women's nine hour work day bill was killed last night when the senate by a vote of 21 to 17, tabled a motion to appoint a conference committee after the house had refused to concur in the senate amendment to the bill.

REDUCES RECALL PERCENTAGE.

A bill that passed the legislature reduces the per cent necessary to submit the recall of commissioners under the commission form of government from 55 to 25, and provides that the question of adopting or rejecting the commission form of government may be voted upon every two years instead of four.

The senate by a vote of 32 to 7, passed the administration public utility bill with the "home rule" feature incorporated in the measure and with the feature allowing the state commission control over the issuing of stocks and bonds eliminated.

Under the bill a state commission is to be created to have charge of the public utilities outside of cities and in all cities under 20,000 population. All cities are allowed to pass under or out from under the control of the state commission on referendum vote. The senate concurred in the conference committee report on the omnibus appropriation bill.

SEPARATES DIVISIONS

The senate passed the house bill revising the state court and procedure act so as to separate the chancery division from the law divisions, and the house bill appropriating $65,000 to defray expenses of legislative contests.

TEN BIG DAYS FOR DUNNE

Has Mass of Bills and Will Get Busy On Distribution of Patronage.

Springfield, June 21.—Governor Dunne, during the ensuing ten days, will be one of the busiest men in the state.

PATRONAGE.

In addition to the task of considering the bills passed by the assembly, the governor plans, during the next few days, to dispose of a large part of the patronage within his gift. Much of this patronage has been held up until such a time as the assembly completed its labors.

On top of all this the governor is confronted with the task of scaling down a $37,709,000 budget in order to prevent the state tax rate from soaring to 65 or 70 cents.

SOME IMPORTANT ACTS.

Not the least important acts of the present assembly was the passage of the woman's suffrage bill, Illinois being the first state east of the Mississippi river to grant the women the vote.

The budget for the next two years is nearly three times the size of that passed for the last two years of the administration of Former Governor Altgeld, and $9,000,000 in excess of the appropriations for the last two years of the Deneen administration.

BILLS WHICH DID NOT PASS.

Numbered in the list of bills which the session did not pass are several of the bills designated by the governor as "administrative" measures, including the initiative and referendum resolution, the governor's tax commission bill abolishing the state board of equalization.

ADMINISTRATION MEASURES.

The following "administration" bills were passed by the assembly:

Municipal ownership of all public utilities carrying a referendum clause.

Employment of convict labor on state highways.

Semi-monthly payment of wages.

Establishment of a state epileptic colony.

Consolidation of the fish and game departments.

MEASURES SIGNED BY GOVERNOR.

Among the bills signed by Governor Dunne yesterday and which will become laws July 1 are:

The free school law, increasing the amount to 3 per cent, which can be raised for school purposes; changes annual election of directors from third to second Saturday in April.

Appropriating $300,000 for an Illinois building and exhibit at the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco in 1915.

DUNNE NOT SATISFIED

Says Legislature Failed of Its Duty—Names Member Who Defeated Measure.

Springfield, June 21.—Governor Dunne today issued a statement saying he was not satisfied with the work achieved by this session of the legislature.

"In at least two particulars, the Forty-eighth general assembly failed in its duty to the people of Illinois," he said. "The initiative and referendum should have been crystallized into law and the board of equalization should have been abolished. These things the legislature refused to do.

DEMANDED

"Although the people have thrice demanded that the initiative and referendum be placed on the statutes and although the Democratic, Progressive and Socialist parties have been committed to it in their platforms, and the Republican party also favored it in its platform, the legislature, chosen by the people has refused to obey the wishes of the people in this regard."

KILENS DENOUNCED.

Representative Hubert Kilens, Democrat from the Fourth district, who changed his vote from aye to nay, was charged by Governor Dunne with defeating the initiative and referendum. He "forgot his duty to the people of the state, his duty to his party and his duty to the people of his district," said the governor.

STATE BOARD RECREANT.

The governor charged that the state board of equalization had proved recreant to its duty and in matters of taxation had favored the corporations at the expense of the people.

FEW CHANGES

Chairman Simmons of the finance committee said he anticipated few if any changes in the chemical schedule by the caucus. Neither did he anticipate much discussion over the earthenware and glassware schedule which follows, though there was a disposition on the part of some members to urge certain increases in the rates on pottery.

Republican leaders were studying the changes and adjusting their plan of attack.

Efforts of counsel for the defense to discredit testimony of physicians in behalf of the crown thus far has been futile.

PEACE BOND FAILS; GOES BACK TO JAIL

Gun Habit Disastrous for Ernest Dewey.

Shelbyville, June 21.—Failure to provide a bond of $300 to insure his keeping the peace for a period of three months, resulted Friday in Ernest Dewey being remanded to the county jail, and he now occupies the cell in which he was quartered for some time two or three years ago, when he was under indictment for carrying concealed weapons and for assault with intent to kill.

DISAPPEARS, THEN RETURNS.

Dewey is a farmer whose home is on the line between Rose and Pickaway townships. He was arraigned before Police Magistrate Lafe Tallman Friday morning on a warrant issued some time ago, when Marion Cullumber, a neighbor, complained that Dewey had threatened him and his wife and had made a decidedly hostile demonstration with a revolver. Before the officers could get service on Dewey, he disappeared. Thursday night Sheriff Crook was informed by telephone that he had returned to his home. Engaging an automobile and accompanied by Deputy Sheriff Biggs, Officer Crook proceeded to the Dewey home and found his man.

Dewey demurred to his arrest and declared that Cullumber did not intend to prosecute him; but he was informed that the matter was out of the hands of Mr. Cullumber, even should that gentleman want to drop the proceedings, and Dewey was brought to Shelbyville. He remained in the county jail over night, pending his arraignment Friday morning.

When confronted with the charge against him Friday, Dewey entered a plea of guilty to disturbing the peace and was fined. He was also placed under bond to keep the peace, but could get no surety and is in jail.

WITNESS DIES.

The indictments against Dewey several years ago were the result of an assault he made on the late William Latch, uncle of former State's Attorney F. E. Latch. At that time he fired a shot at Latch on the highway near Strasburg. Before his arraignment for trial, the complaining witness died, and after holding Dewey in jail for some time he was released on bond and later the indictments were nollied by F. E. Latch before the latter's retirement from office.

PRICE-ASKINS.

Samuel D. Price, postmaster and banker at Lakewood, and Miss Martha A. Askins of the same place went to Springfield Thursday, procured a license and were married there by a Methodist minister at 7 o'clock in the evening. They returned to Lakewood on a late train.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Askins. Mr. Price is prominent in business and financial circles, and among his other duties are those of secretary and treasurer of the Lakewood Telephone exchange.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Waters departed at noon Friday for Jacksonville where they were called by the death of Mrs. Waters' sister-in-law, Mrs. George A. Smith. The death occurred Thursday and the funeral was held at 10 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

HAS DAUGHTER IN DECATUR

The eightieth birthday anniversary of Mrs. Chris Kull was observed in an all day celebration at her home on South First street Thursday, when a family reunion was held. Fifty relatives and friends of Mrs. Kull were with her throughout the day. Among these was her daughter, Mrs. Gus Pauschert of Decatur, Adam Kull and family of Strasburg, Manuel Kull and family of Strasburg, and John Mantz of Rural township. The other celebrants were from this city and vicinity.

Mrs. Kull was born in Germany, June 19, 1833, and came to Shelby county when thirty-two years old.

SCHOOL CONTRACT LET.

The contract for building the addition to the Windsor school building has been awarded to H. Bart Grider, a former resident of Windsor and teacher in the schools of Shelby county, but who has been a contractor for a number of years and now lives in Granite City. Mr. Grider's bid at Windsor was for $3,500, while that of Hagerman & Harshman was $4,452, and that of G. F. Wall was $4,556. Immediately after the contract was awarded to him, Mr. Grider engaged laborers, staked off the ground and began the excavation. He promises to have the job completed by the first of September.

VAUGHAN-GOULD.

Windsor friends have received announcement of the marriage of Miss Grace Gould, a former resident of that city. The young woman, who has been living in Colorado for several years, was married to Harold L. Vaughan of Denver at Fort Collins, Colo., June 10. Sixty guests were present, and among these was Mrs. O. A. Sargent of Windsor.

FIRE IN SAWMILL.

Another piece of bad luck visited the Sanford and Sears sawmill on the Moberly farm, northeast of the city, where M. Lucas suffered the mangling of his hand in the saw a couple of weeks ago. The latest trouble was a fire, which burned considerable lumber and caused a lot of strenuous work to keep the entire stock of lumber, as well as the machinery from destruction. Volunteer assistants moved 40,000 feet of lumber, and a stream of water was played on the burning sawdust for several hours.

The fire started from sparks which lodged in the sawdust and smouldered all night before breaking forth in flames. The lumber that was burned belonged to J. W. and B. F. Moberley. In addition to the two incidents named, the sawyers once lost the shed over the machinery by fire, and have at times had a great deal of trouble with the machinery.

TENDONS TORN.

B. F. Goddard, a well known Windsor man, is confined to his home with an injury received in a playful scuffle with a little boy friend a few nights ago. Mr. Goddard made a misstep, which resulted in the tearing loose of one of the tendons of his foot.

BRIDLE BROKE.

Clarence Johnson, who essayed to stop a runaway horse in the city of Windsor a day or two ago, was knocked down and the buggy ran over him, inflicting severe bruises and scratches. The injuries are not serious, however. Johnson would have stopped the horse had the bridle not broken.

WINDSOR'S NEW ELEVATOR.

Work on the new elevator of the Windsor Grain company is progressing nicely, and is being done by Windsor workmen. The elevator is being erected on modern plans, and is one of the largest in this section of the state. It is to be seventy-four feet high above the grade line, and covers much ground space. The elevator takes the place of the one burned a few weeks ago.

GRADUATED FROM YALE.

Covey F. Grider, a resident of Windsor, and relative of County Judge J. K. P. Grider of this city, was graduated this week from the law school of Yale university, with the honors of the class. Mr. Grider formerly was a successful school teacher and principal, as well as an able platform orator.

Miss Portia Ewing of Neoga has been engaged to teach the primary room of the Windsor school for the ensuing year, taking the vacancy created by the resignation of Miss Alta Farmer. Miss Ewing has had some experience in teaching, but was graduated Thursday from the primary training course of the Normal at Charleston.

The O. H. Paddock Lumber company entertained a large number of farmers at the Findlay opera house. A lecture was delivered by C. C. Shoof, a representative of the American Steel and Wire company, and the lumber company served ice cream, cake and cigars.

AMERICA IS AHEAD IN EPILEPSY CURE

SPECIALIST, BACK FROM ORIENT, TELLS OF ITS INCREASE IN THE OLD WORLD.

That America is far ahead of the Old World in its knowledge, management and frequent cure of Epilepsy, although that disease has existed among the oriental people from time immemorial, is stated by Dr. Matthew Woods, a widely known specialist on that subject, and president of the Society of Arts and Letters, just returned from a three months' trip to study epileptic conditions in the east, including Turkey, Egypt and Greece.

He found that the "Falling Sickness" was increasing in many parts of the Old World, the supposed per centage of Epileptics to population in Greece, for instance, now being one to every thousand. Dr. Woods admitted that the disease was also increasing in this country, although the proportion is not so large, the per centage of Epileptics in Philadelphia, for example, being about one to every three thousand.

In this country the United Doctors' Institute has distinguished themselves as being among the foremost in the scientific treatment of this terrible malady.

One case of particular interest to be reported is that of a foreigner living at Saginaw, Mich. He writes of his case as follows:

Dear Sirs:

I commenced to have Epileptic fits when I was about five years of age, and they have kept growing worse on me as I grew older. Since I was about fourteen years of age I have had as many as ten fits in a single day, and would have them two or three times a month. For the last two years I have not been able to do much work because I was liable to fall at any time in a fit. I have had a number of severe injuries from falls, once having fallen on a hot stove and burned my face and hands terribly.

I have tried a number of doctors and advertised cures without any benefit, until in April I consulted at the United Doctors' Institute and commenced taking their treatment, and since then I have not had a fit, and feel like a different person. I eat and sleep well and enjoy life. I feel that their treatment is going to permanently cure me, and I take pleasure in recommending them to any person in need of medical assistance, especially nervous ailments, as the relief I have obtained in my case has been a pleasant surprise to me and my friends. I am, Very respectfully yours,

HISTORY OF CIVIL WAR DAY BY DAY

JUNE 21, 1863.

Union Brigadier-General Pleasanton moved with his entire cavalry command to Middleton where he attacked the confederate crack cavalry force under General J. E. B. Stuart. Superior union forces won the day, the southern horsemen being compelled to fall back fighting step for step under the fierce charges which allowed for sabre fighting alone.

Pleasanton took two pieces of field artillery, sixty prisoners, including two officers, a large number of carbines and pistols and many sabres.

The union troops acted gallantly all through the gruelling day, which resulted in only a small loss to union ranks.

It was Sunday.

ONE OF THE CHRISTIAN MARTYRS.

BY JINKS.

Alas, poor Mr. Perkins
Is mightily abused;
His troubles come in firkins,
We've got his fame confused.
He has the right to be a Knight, a King, an Ace, a Deuce;
But, now bad men suggest the pen—they're mean—the things they say!

So thus is virtue hounded,
And thus is good repaid
With charges base, unfounded
And sour as lemonade.
We nobly tried to take the side of all our cash in trust,
And thus to flay our trials away—those charges are unjust!

SCRAP BASKET.

A Decatur lawyer relates that he overheard a conversation between two farmers a few days ago. The topic of course, was the drouth. One of them said:

"I knew May was going to be a dry month. The May moon was dry. I knew that June was going to be dry because the June moon was dry."

A dry moon, by the way, is one on which you can hang a powder horn. It being very essential that powder be kept dry. Or it may be it is that a dry moon is one which is tilted at so great an angle that all the water has run out. Of course if there is a dry moon that has settled the weather for the month.

The second farmer said:

"Well, what sort of moon do you suppose they had at Pontiac?"

"How's that?" asked No. 1. "What sort of a moon?"

"Yes," said No. 2. "They have been having too much rain right along while we are having none at all. Do you suppose they have a wet moon?"

The question was puzzling and the farmer who regulates his weather by the moon said he guessed they must have another kind of moon at Pontiac if they are having another kind of weather.

Of course it is impossible to shatter the moon traditions. Being merely moonshine they reunite and become just as good as new as soon as the shattering force has moved on.

Says a practical bulletin on weather forecasting recently issued by the U. S. Weather Bureau:

"Sayings which pertain to the moon and planets are entirely foreign to the subject, and those which apply to forecasts for coming seasons are wholly without foundation. Peculiar growths and developments in vegetation are the result of weather conditions that have passed and have no connection with weather conditions that are to come. The character of a muskrat's house or a beaver's dam is the direct result of the stage of the water at the time the structures were made.

"Proverbs regarding the actions of birds and animals are usually of little value. Marked changes in the atmosphere are usually responsible for the peculiar antics, and these same changes are usually preceded by reliable signs as one learns to observe and interpret them.

"Signs pertaining to the condition of the atmosphere, the appearance of the sky, the character and movements of the clouds and the direction and force of the winds are, generally speaking, all that are worth testing out for one's particular locality.

"By mapping the entire northern hemisphere the weather bureau is enabled to forecast general conditions for a week or ten days in advance with a creditable degree of accuracy but at the present time there is nothing known which justifies any person in making weather forecasts for longer periods. The person who would learn to forecast from local observations will do well to confine his efforts to the detection of weather changes a few hours in advance.

GLOOM FOR FARIES PARK CAMPERS

No Early Interurban Car This Summer.

Gloomy news for Faries park campers has just been unearthed. There will be no early interurban car running into Decatur this summer. This announcement will shatter the plans of fifty or more young men who were intending to spend most of their nights in tents and cottages at the park during the torrid months.

IS TOO LATE

The first interurban car from Champaign reaches Decatur at 7.45 o'clock every morning. This is too late for a majority of young men who would enjoy camping at the park, as most of them have to reach their places of business by 7 or 7.30 o'clock.

Robert Faries, owner of the park, tried to secure a car to be run out to the park at 6:30 o'clock every morning to bring in the campers, but was unable to complete negotiations with the interurban people. This however will not affect the Sunday Faries park car which will be run out and back every hour.

MANY THERE.

There are already a number of people spending their nights in cottages at the park. Many of these fresh air lovers go out to the park and back in automobiles.

T. P. A.'S HOME FROM NATIONAL MEETING

All Pleased With Convention At Richmond.

T. W. Dudley of this city, state president of the T. P. A., Mrs. Dudley, George W. Allen and wife and L. L. Scribner returned Friday from Richmond, Va., where they attended the national convention of the T. P. A. Mr. Dudley went by virtue of his office and the two others as delegates from Post K of Decatur. The party left here two weeks ago. The convention opened June 9 and closed June 11. Since then, they have been visiting various points of interest in and around Washington.

They were very greatly pleased with their trip, the city of Richmond and the treatment accorded them.

One feature of the convention was a big parade in which the delegation from each state wore a certain kind of suit. The Illinois delegation wore white hats with blue bands on which was the word "Illinois" and also carried Illinois pennants. There were forty-seven delegates and twenty women from Illinois. Each visitor was given a souvenir—a small case containing a sample of all important things manufactured in Richmond.

The convention next year goes to Houston, Tex.

WALKER PEOPLE IN ACCIDENT

Walker, June 21.—While driving home from Macon Thursday evening about 10:30 Mr. and Mrs. Homer Andrews met with an accident that might have proved serious. When about half way home they saw two buggies racing and coming towards them. On account of the dust they failed to see the two buggies in the rear and the one driven by Ross Miller ran into Homer Andrews, throwing Homer and Ross out. Mrs. Andrews received a blow over the left eye, supposedly to have been caused by a broken spoke or the shaft.

Merville Hill, of Macon, who was in the buggy with Ross Miller, was thrown out and his shoulder was thrown out of place.

LARGE FARM HOUSE BURNED TO GROUND

On Old Haworth Place, Owned By John Dipper.

Fire completely destroyed the large fourteen room house on the old Haworth farm west of the city on the Springfield road about 2 o'clock Friday afternoon. The origin of the fire is unknown. The place was owned by John Dipper and occupied by one of his men, Philip Farmer and family. The members of the family were away from the house at the time and say they left no fire burning in the house while they were gone.

One of the men working close by noticed the smoke from the house but he and three or four other men who came up to help were practically helpless against the flames which had gained such headway, as they had nothing with which to fight the fire. The entire structure, being dry, burned fast. But a few household goods were rescued.

The house was an old one, but was in good shape. It was a total loss but Mr. Dipper had some insurance on it. The house was located almost a quarter of a mile south of the Springfield road on the lane which runs south, beginning at the south end of the Steven's creek bridge.

HARPER AND HIS ECZEMA BALL

Scratch Hits Are Made By Quincy.

PEORIA HERE SUNDAY

For Series of Four Games With Reedmen.

"Under a doctor's tender care
The local rooter sits
They're strapped him firmly to a chair,
For he has conniption fits
And he raves of baseballs foul and fair,
Home runs and three base hits.
Week in, week out, from morn 'till night
You can hear the poor guy bleat;
It is the most distressing sight
The eye would care to meet.
But he cheers the team with all his might,
For he's crazy with the heat"

LIKED THEM

Quincy took very kindly to Pitcher Bill Harper's eczema ball Friday, nicking him for a number of scratch hits In fact the scratches were as numerous at times as those made off Frank Lakuff's prickly heat ball the day before Friday's score was 5 to 2 for the Vets

ONE SMALL AILMENT.

Like the gent who lost a kingdom because of a horse-shoe nail, Harper parted with the game because he didn't have the right "stuff" in the third and fifth innings The vets got to him in those sessions and the sight was a sorry one Still in the other innings Harper looked like a world beater.

Willis was on the hill for Quincy and he was hardly more effective than Harper McNeely, Scherer, O'Brien and others of the home hopefuls figured in the hitting.

PEORIA HERE SUNDAY

Quincy plays the last game of the series here this afternoon Peoria comes here Sunday for a series of four games Barry McCormick now owns a fighting club at distillerville and the games here should be interesting. Friday's score

BASEBALL CHATTER.

Our ball team used to be called "Climbers." Now it is the ladder for others to climb on Six straight games for the Bloomers. The Three-I league must be becoming a joke when a team like Bloomington's can make a run like that.

Only 4,000 fans attended the four games between the Cardinals and Brooklyn at St. Louis

The Decatur team hasn't prospered on the home grounds because of the tariff agitation, the Maroa fire and contributary negligence on the part of the pitchers. But wait, bo, until they get on the road.

"When Reed takes charge, there will be a shaking up of dry bones at Decatur," says the Bloomington Pantagraph

That deep thunder heard in the north is the noise of the hammers working in Davenport. The Prods have lost two straight to the Bloomers. That would bring out the hammer wielders in any town.

Decatur is making a fine showing in the battle for tail-end honors. The brewers come Sunday and we should fatten up on them

OTHER THREE-I GAMES.

At Dubuque—Danville 8-12-0 Dubuque, 3-9-2. Neal and Quesser, Tamline and Boucher.

ZIMMERMAN IS SUSPENDED AGAIN

St Louis, June 21.—Henry Zimmerman of the Cubs is under indefinite suspension and must pay a fine of $200. At least this is what Manager Evers said last night following the run-in with the star slugger yesterday afternoon that resulted in his banishment from the game in the third round. Being made a "goat" by Zim forced this action, according to the Cub manager.

HOW IT HAPPENED

Evers informed Zim that he had made a "rotten" play. Temperamental Heinie came right back with a fancy expression that didn't suit the boss. "That will cost you a hundred," quoth Evers. Again Heinie spoke the same language "You can leave the game now," added Evers. For the third time Zim applied his unsanctified lingo and then left the field will out as much as turning around to see how many were watching him.

COLEMAN'S WORK.

Meyers kicked so hard on balls and strikes in the fifth that Umpire O'Day ordered him out of the game Wood and Coleman, two Pittsburgh recruits each scored two runs and had three hits.

Tesreau seemed to suffer from the intense heat and was hit steadily for four innings Crandall took up the job in the fifth Score:

PROGRESS MADE IN TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Two Matches Left to Be Played Sunday.

Progress in the Country club July 4 tennis tournament has been much better the last week Every man entered in the tournament has been notified whom he is to play and all but two matches in the preliminary round have been played off.

Wiley defeated C. A McMillon, 6-2, 2-6, 6-2 Cook defeated McDunnough 7-5, 10-8. LeForgee defeated Elwood, 6-0, 6-0. Risley defeated Morton, 6-4, 3-6 Moeller defeated Mills, 6-2, 6-2. Meriweather defaulted to Morton. Cole defaulted to Bering

This leaves a couple of matches in the preliminary round to be played off. They will be played on Sunday. In the second round the matches are as follows.

Wood vs Cook
Wiley vs. Moeller
Mueller vs. R. C. McMillon

The other matches in this round cannot be determined until the other preliminary matches have been played off. Winners of these matches will then be matched in the first or second round

SLIM SCHEDULE FOR AMATEURS

WHERE AMATEURS PLAY SUNDAY

Decatur Moose at Lincoln
Springfield Moose at Clinton
Decatur Blues at Ivesdale.
Staunton at Pana.

Hot weather is putting a damper on the amateur baseball games and the schedule for Sunday is rather slim as a result. The feature game will be the Lincoln-Decatur Moose contest at Lincoln. Those two teams are tied for the leadership of the Moose league, Dictator McDonald will take his regular lineup to Lincoln and Wright and Young will do the pitching.

TO IVESDALE.

J. F. Liston will take his Decatur Blues to Ivesdale for a game with the club at that place. The Blues defeated Ivesdale once or twice before this season, but it is said that the Ivesdale club has been strengthened of late and a good game is expected.

REED PUTS TEAM THROUGH PACES

New Boss Injects Ginger In the Club.

SELL LIKE HOT CAKES

278 Booster Pins Bought — No Changes.

George M. Reed, chief-poo-bah of baseball in Decatur, assumed formal control of the team Saturday morning. Reed was out of bed with the chickens, routed out the snoozing players and hiked them out to the ball park for a work-out.

"No slip-shod playing goes on this club from now on," said Reed. He intimated further that any man on the club who shows a disposition to slow up and not play his best will be planted in the I.-M. league or some other class C organization. "We want speed," says Reed, "and we'll get it."

NO CHANGES IN TEAM.

It was announced today that there would be absolutely no changes in the Decatur team for the present. Reed and the other officials of the club are confident that they have plenty of able playing material. The big thing that is needed, assert they, is to get the team to play together. "To the cannery with individual playing," is the slogan. "Teamwork or bust," is shouted from the housetops.

DON'T MISS THIS.

Just what is George Reed's connection with the Decatur club. That can be answered in four sentences, as follows:

No. 1—Reed takes over a one-third interest in the club (No figures mentioned.)

No. 2—Reed receives a guarantee of $500 for his services.

No. 3—If Reed develops and sells any of the players he will draw down a pudgy commission.

No 4—Reed takes absolute charge of the players, but will be open to advice from the three commissioners, Bering, Rogers and Sanders. (Emphasis on the first name).

SIXTY AT MEETING.

There were sixty fans present at the meeting in the G. A. R. hall Friday evening and everything went through swimmingly. "All we want from you fans," said one of the baseball men in his talk, "is $1 in money and $100 in enthusiasm." Everybody present agreed to cough up the single ducat and promised to do all they could on the enthusiasm part.

Up to noon Saturday, 278 of the 500 booster pins had been sold at $1 each. The others are expected to go in the next few days. Frank Powers and Mont Peniwell sold thirty each and then came back for more. The $500 for the pins will be kept to pay to George Reed.

BECKER AT HEAD.

A permanent booster club was organized at the meeting Friday night Officers were chosen as follows:
President—Charles Becker.
Secretary—Glenn Perkins.
George Reed was present at the meeting and made a short talk in which he declared he was glad to get back to Decatur.

200 ATHLETES HOPE TO BREAK RECORDS

Central A. A. U. Championship Games Held Today.

Chicago, June 21.—More than 200 athletes, the best in the middle west, were entered in the Central Amateur Athletic union championship games at Northwestern field, today. It had been predicted that new records would be established in the mile, half mile, quarter mile, pole vault, hammer throw, shot put and the relay race but the cool weather, with rain during the morning, would have a tendency to hold back the men, trainers said.

The Chicago Athletic association was picked to win the meet with the Illinois Athletic club, the University of Chicago and the University of Michigan about evenly matched for second place.

DAVENPORT'S LAST.

Ira Davenport, who holds the conference records in the quarter and half mile runs, will participate in his last races today and hopes to hang up a new mark.

Hannes Kolehmainen, the Finnish runner who won the marathon race at Stockholm, will attempt to set a new record for the run from the Illinois clubhouse on Michigan avenue to the Northwestern field, a distance of fifteen miles.

ASSUMPTION BEATS BLOOMER GIRLS

Assumption, June 21.—The Bloomer girls were treated to a defeat yesterday afternoon by the Assumption Grays, in a very poorly played game of ball by the score of 12-5. The game lacked snap and ginger from the start, and the many errors piling up on the Bloomer's side was evidently the cause of the defeat.

The Grays faced all the twirlers carried by this team, with the exception of one lady slab artist.

TOCSAM WINS IN BERMUDA RACE

New York, June 21.—The motor boat Tocsam, owned by William Mulford of Ocean City, N. J., crossed the finish line off Bay Ridge, Brooklyn at 4:02 a. m. today, winning the Crescent athletic club trophy for a return race from Bermuda.

The Barbara II finished at 9:24 o'clock last night, but because of the rating could not win with less than an eleven hour margin

WIGGINS RESIGNS SUPERINTENDENCY

Will Become Valuation Engineer for Penn Lines.

PLACE JUST CREATED

No Successor Named to Decatur Job Yet.

W. D. Wiggins, superintendent of the Peoria division of the Vandalia, has resigned his position in this city, effective July 1, to accept a position in Pittsburgh with the Pennsylvania lines The position he will take will be engineer of valuation of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh.

The deal was made while he was in Pittsburgh. The announcement came as a complete surprise to the office men here.

REQUIRED BY LAW.

The conference with General Manager Benjamin McKeen in Pittsburgh brought to Mr. Wiggins the position, which is being created by all railroads on account of a law that was passed by congress last winter requiring all railroads to put a physical valuation on their property.

Mr. Wiggins will have under him a large staff of engineers and assistants. With these men he will place a value on every dollar's worth of property the road owns.

IN HARNESS EIGHTEEN YEARS.

Mr Wiggins has had eighteen years of practical experience as a railroader. He is a college graduate and before coming to Decatur to succeed Frank Campbell as superintendent he was chief engineer of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh When Mr Campbell was promoted to the superintendency of the Michigan division, Mr Wiggins was sent to Decatur to hold down this job. While a position as superintendent was a little out of his line of work, Mr. Wiggins has proved himself a thoroughly competent man in such a position. He has readily made friends in Decatur. He came to Decatur the first of last November.

Mr. Wiggins will remain in this city until after July 4. He is now residing at 1205 West Main street. His headquarters in the new position will be in Pittsburgh, his former home.

NO SUCCESSOR YET

Nothing has been done in regard to the appointment of a new superintendent Several men are said to be in line for the position.

HARVARD WINS EVERY EVENT

Sweeps Yale Crews Off the Thames In Races.

New London, Conn June 21.—For the sixth time in six consecutive years Harvard's varsity eight-oared crew triumphed over the Yale oarsmen in the long four-mile race that closed the annual interuniversity regatta here yesterday. Preceded by the two crimson victories of the forenoon and the two wins Thursday, it completed a Harvard sweep that has been equaled only once or twice in the history of Yale-Harvard rowing Last night bands of Cambridge students were parading the streets shouldering new brooms emblematic of the crimson sweep of the Thames river.

WAS CRUSHING

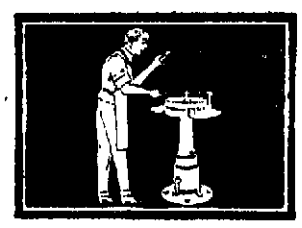

The final defeat administered to Yale was so crushing that the English stroke and rowing methods imported from Oxford are being ridiculed in a manner which many veteran oarsmen think unjust. Sweeping down the river with a steady and consistent stroke, Harvard crossed the finish line eleven lengths ahead of the blue in 21 minutes and 42 seconds. The Eli eight rolled and splashed across the Harvard's wake just thirty-eight seconds later, as badly a defeated crew as has been seen on the Thames river course in years.

FAMOUS RACE IS REVIVED

New York, June 21.—The revival of the Brooklyn handicap, which was instituted by the Dwyer brothers at their Gravesend track twenty-six years ago, was the feature of the card of seven races at Belmont park today. The last running of this event, which always featured the opening of racing at Gravesend, was in 1910, when S. C. Hildreth's Fitz Herbert, carrying 130 pounds won. This was the only time in the history of the event that such a crushing weight was carried first under the wire.

Today the field of eight starters was small but select and R. P. Whitney's Whiskbroom II, winner of several races in England as well as the Metropolitan handicap three weeks ago, was allotted the heaviest impost, 130 pounds.

Rain fell almost continuously from sundown yesterday until long after daylight today.

RURAL CARRIERS HOLD ANNUAL SESSION

Bethany, June 21.—The rural route carriers of Moultrie county met at the home of J. M. Bushart Thursday in annual session and it was one of the most largely attended meetings ever held by the association.

Every town was represented except Bruce and many of the carriers brought their wives and children. It was a jolly crowd and all seemed to have a good time.

A social was held at the home of J. M. Bushart in the north part of town. They gathered at the home about 6 o'clock and remained until 8 o'clock.

The rural carriers furnished refreshments which were served in three courses. The first course consisted of pressed chicken sandwiches, the second of fruit salad; and the third of ice cream. A large jar of lemonade was frequently visited by the guests.

After the serving of refreshments a business session was held and the following officers were reelected.

President—J. L. Bankson.
Vice president—G. P. Martin.
Secretary-treasurer—Ira Leitch.

The following delegates were elected to attend the state convention in August: E. E. Tinsman, G. P. Martin and Ray Philpott.

The following were present: Mr. and Mrs A. E. Tinsman, Mayhew Rhodes an dfamily, W. G. Cochran, Jr., Mr. and Mrs W. A Gardner, Mr and Mrs. J. W Lewis of Sullivan, S. H Phillips of Dalton City, Ed LaBotte and Ray S. Philpott of Gays, G. P. Martin and family of Allenville, Mr. and Mrs. W. A Brown and Misses Nellie Potts and Vivian Timmons of Lovington, P. M. GIVEN JUDGMENT.

Isaac Low had a lawsuit in Bloomington last week with the Illinois Central railroad. Several months ago he shipped a car of horses from Matteson and it was three days before they arrived in Bloomington He sued the company for $1,500 and was awarded $590.

GONE INTO BUSINESS.

L. W. Niles, who has been postmaster here for the past twelve years, has opened up a real estate and insurance office in the Sattley building on the levee. He will be glad to have his friends call and see him

While in the postoffice he brought it up to a high state of efficiency, until it is a well equipped office.

A NEW POSTMASTER.

George Reuss took charge of the postoffice Tuesday morning This is the first time in many years that a Democrat has been in charge.

Mr. Reuss is making one change which is very commendable, and that is there will be no stationery in the lobby. On holidays the postoffice will be open and those who have lock boxes can go and get their mail

Mr Reuss has asked both of the women to remain in their positions. Miss Grace Riggin has been in the office for over nine years and is thoroughly acquainted with the duties and is an efficient assistant

Miss Mildred McGuire has been in the office for over two years and her work pleases the patrons. The public will be glad that the postmaster retains the two women.

D. F. KENNEDY DEAD

David Kennedy, who had been in poor health for several months, passed away Saturday evening at the home of his daughter, Mrs. A. R. Beaver, east of town. The cause of death was enlargement of the liver.

He was made trustee of the Methodist church when it was organized here about forty years ago, and was the last one of the original trustees to pass away.

He stood ready with financial help when it was needed and was always a faithful attendant. He had probably filled every office in the church and was always ready to take part in prayer or testimony. He had a good knowledge of music and for several years led the singing. His wife died two years ago last April and since that time he had made his home with his daughter.

The funeral was held in the Methodist church Monday at 2 p. m. and was largely attended. The sermon was delivered by his pastor, Rev. L. G. Cummins.

Music was furnished by a women's quartet composed of Mrs. L. G. Cummins, Mrs. C. O. Tobill, Misses Grace Bushart and Amy Coombes. Miss Ruth Six presided at the piano.

The G. A. R. post attended in a body.

The pallbearers were W. C., Will, Frank and Claude Kennedy, Bufford and Tode Mitchell.

The body was laid to rest in the local cemetery.

David F. Kennedy was born near Bethany June 15, 1834. Had he lived but a few hours longer he would have reached his seventy-ninth birthday.

Dr. Kennedy's life had been spent in and near Bethany with the exception of the time he spent in the country's service during the Civil war. He enlisted in Company B, Forty-first Illinois infantry, in 1861 and served until the close of the war, three years and three months.

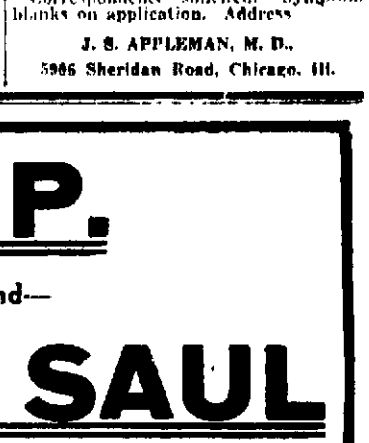

He was married to Nancy Jane Mitchell July 21, 1858, and to them were born six children, three sons and three daughters. Their first son, John C., died in infancy, E. E. of Decatur, U. G. of Bethany, Mrs. Belle Beavers, Mrs. Dora Low, Miss Mary A. Kennedy, all of Bethany, and one brother, Finis A. Kennedy, of Denver, Colo., survive him

TENT ADVICE FOR CAMPERS

July Outing: Before you start on your camping trip, if you have not already done so, paraffine your tent There are very few, if any, tents that will not let in some dampness during a heavy rain, but if you paraffine yours even if it is of the lightest material, it will shed every drop of water, and it will not mould when you fold it up.

To do this, first set up your tent in a sunny spot and let it dry thoroughly If it is about ten by twelve a pound of paraffine and a gallon of gasoline will do for one coat, and one will answer if evenly spread. Leave the gasoline at the tent while you melt the paraffine in a skillet in the house When sizzling hot, take it out and pour into the gasoline. Apply instantly with either a sprayer or brush. And remember above all things you must not smoke or strike a match, or allow anyone around who does, while you are doing this job

KODAK

The Kodak on the Farm

Go down through the orchard and across the meadows to where the pool is at the bend in the creek. Brown Bess and Buttercup and the Jersey heifer are standing there mid-leg in the stream, in quiet content. The old willow casts its friendly shadow over them, its gray-green leaves dipping from time to time in the cool water as the slender limbs are stirred by the summer breeze. What a picture for a Kodak?

ABUNDANT WATER SUPPLY EXPECTED

Engineer Hansen Gives No Opinion Yet.

Sullivan, June 21.—Engineer Paul Hansen, the University of Illinois man, was down again Friday looking into the water question. Measurements taken at the old York well, near where the new well is being tested, showed that the water is pumped out of the large part of the well but the smaller well in the bottom of the larger one still contains water.

The water pumped out of the new well is perfectly clear now, and all of the sand has been stopped coming into the well. Something like thirty gallons a minute is being pumped from the new well and it is thought by a number who have been watching the pumping that if a larger pump was used the well would even stand a larger number of gallons each minute without failing.

NO VERDICT YET.

The Champaign man did not have much to say while here Friday but said he would wait until two other test wells had been finished and then come down and give his opinion as to whether the three wells would furnish enough water so that it would be safe for the city to go ahead and bore more wells and get enough water to have an abundance for all that is needed here. Some are of the opinion that the test well which is to be bored on the city lots on East Jackson street will prove to be the best well they will find.

VERDICT OF $2.70, COST OF WASHINGS

Boy Scouts Home from Salt Creek Camp.

Clinton, June 21.—Judgment to the amount of $2.70 was given the plaintiff in the case of Mrs. L. B. Dusenberry vs. Amos Taylor, which was called in the court of Justice Lawrence Murphy Friday. The suit was over the payment of a bill for three washings done for the plaintiff at the rate of $1.50, making a total of $1.0. Taylor claimed a set off of $1.50 for butter sold to the defendant. The total costs and bill assessed Taylor amounted to $6.20. Attorney Arthur F. Miller represented the plaintiff, while the defendant and his son handled their own case.

SUIT ON COMMISSION.

The first case called in the circuit court Friday was that of A. R. Jackson vs. James M. Jeffrey. The former was suing for a commission of $130 on a sale of some city property situated on West Main street and which was alleged to have been put in his hands by Mr. Jeffrey. The defendant claims that he made the sale unaided. Attorney L. E. Stone represented the plaintiff while Attorney E. B. Mitchell represented the defendant. The case went to the jury at 3:30 and after being out but a short time returned a sealed verdict.

STAYMATES FIGHTS ROAD LAW

Honorable B. F. Staymates and several other prominent citizens of the county left this morning for Springfield, where they placed objections before Governor Dunne to the proposed road bill. This will be the last opportunity for the local representatives to file their objections.

BOY SCOUTS HOME.

The Boy Scouts, numbering thirty three and headed by Rev. William E. Fulton and Rev. E. K. Towle, returned from a week's camp on the banks of East Salt creek Friday evening. It was not intended to leave until today, but it was thought best to break camp in the evening to avoid the sweltering heat. The return was made in autos. The last load of goods arrived in the city at 8:30.

The boys enjoyed themselves to the utmost and could scarcely be persuaded to return home. A large rope swing was constructed from a tree overhanging the water, from which the boys could swing out and dive.

Preparations are already under way for a larger and better camp next year. Two additional acres have been rented besides the present site.

STORIES BY TWO INDIAN PUPILS

Miss Margaret Haldaman, a former Decatur woman now teaching in the Tulalip Training school for Indians on the United States Agency at Tulalip, Wash., has sent The Review, two stories written by the Indian pupils in her class. A recent magazine article described this school thoroughly and also gave a panoramic view of the grounds and many buildings of the institution, which faces on Tulalip Bay, an arm of Puget sound.

This school was provided for the Indians, free of charge, by the United States government in keeping with a treaty made with the Indians in 1855. In this school the government maintains for Indian boys and girls of suitable age and deserving status a school home where they are lodged, provided with subsistence, clothed, taught, trained to productive pursuits, looked after in sickness and in health by a regular physician and trained nurse with hospital facilities, at no expense whatever to the Indian child, or its parents.

CATCHING SALMON.

One story which follows is by Clement Bob and proves very interesting. It follows:

"The salmon which are canned are caught both by gill nets and fish traps. The fish traps are from two to three hundred fathoms along and also the gill nets. Most of the fish are caught by fish traps.

"When the fish are thick, the trap men empty the trap of fish every day, when scarce, every other day.

"The traps or gill net men have a certain company to whom they sell their fish. It is according to the price or contract of the cannery men. All the fishermen take the highest bid.

"When the fish are taken to the cannery, they are loaded into a scow. The owner of the fish loads them into the scow and after the scow is all loaded they have it ready for the fish boat to tow to the cannery.

"When the scow and the fish are landed at the dock of the cannery, the fish are pitched off by some hired men. They pitch the fish into an elevator which carries them into the cannery.

"The fish are first dressed by a machine and also by hand and after they pass the machine where they are dressed they are carried on to one end of a long trough where they are cleaned by the Chinamen.

"After the fish are cleaned, they are cut into pieces according to the length of the cans. Then after they are cut into pieces, they are ready to be canned either by hand or machine."

STORY OF THE FLY.

The other story from an Indian student shows how the school is progressive and up to date in its teaching. It indicates that they are also waging war on the fly. This is a story by Dewey Mitchell, "The Story of a Fly."

"When I was first born, I was called a maggot. I liked to eat dirt from the stable. It tasted good and I ate till my skin would get too tight and I would go to sleep and wake up, feeling much better.

"Pretty soon I became a fly and I tried my wings. I flew to a place where there was plenty of water. The water was dirty but I drank it and felt much better.

"Then I flew to a house and put some germs on everything I could find. I saw one of my mates get on the bread, which the lady was baking and I never saw him again.

"One day, I flew up to a window that I had never seen before. I saw a child asleep. I walked on his lips. It was good and warm and there I wiped my feet again, leaving germs on the child's lips. I flew to a glass of water and there I left some more germs and I drank some of the water. The next morning I went there again. I could not find the child. He was covered with a sheet and some people came to the house and they must have taken the child away for I never saw him any more."

A Mistake.

Post Dispatch—"Yes, sir," said the real estate agent, "I can recommend this place to you. No malaria, chills unknown. Healthiest locality in the state."

"Guess we can't do business, then," replied the prospective tenant; "I'm a doctor."

Defining the Relationship.

Post Dispatch: "What's the matter with Jones? He seems to be furiously angry at the deacon."

"Yes. You see, Jones got mad at him and wrote calling him a donkey, and the deacon in replying addressed him as brother!"

Chicago Market Letter.

Chicago, June 21.—Wheat: Strong and higher with closing figures practically at the top. The market has shown excellent strength today and illustrates the fact that on dips sufficient export business appears to overcome the bearish sentiment. Clearances were liberal and statistics on Monday will likely be of a bullish character and we feel that the buying side at the moment offers the opportunities.

Corn: The market has been weak and lower on fairly liberal rains through Northern Illinois, Iowa, and the West and the promise of showery conditions ranging Eastward over Sunday. The principal pressure has been on the December widening the spread between September and December to almost three cents a bushel. It rather looks at the moment as though values will seek a slightly lower level but we would confine our operations at the moment to sales of the December rather than the September.

Oats: Slightly easier, largely in sympathy with the corn. They have however shown excellent tone and as there doubtless has been considerable damage to the growing crop we feel that present prices are warranted and that buying operations at the market and on a scale down will prove attractive.

Provisions: Firm and slightly higher. They continue to show an excellent tone and we feel that buying on the recessions is in order.

GRAIN LOOKS GOOD NEAR TAYLORVILLE

Taylorville, June 21.—Colonel W. T. Baker of Mt. Auburn was here Friday and said the corn in Mt. Auburn township never looked better than it does now, the time of the year considered. He says the corn will be in good shape even if there is no rain for two weeks more. On his place it is half way between his knees and waist, and has been gone over four times.

FIRST WHEAT.

The first wheat cut in Christian county this year was Friday at the C. W. Keller farm in Johnson township and it is showing up exceedingly well. Mr. Miller says the wheat will show better than it has in several years, samples of it exhibited here Friday confirming his assertions as to its quality. Near his farm, he says, the wheat will do better than an average.

GRAIN MARKETS ARE STRONGER

Wheat Closes Steady and Higher and Corn Lower.

Chicago, June 21.—Wheat developed strength today because of wet weather interfering with the satisfactory harvest of the winter crop. Dry conditions in the spring wheat country, especially in South Dakota, further encouraged the bulls. Offerings proved unusually light. The market opened the same as last night to ⅛c off. September which started unchanged to ⅛c lower at 90¾@90⅞c, rallied to 91⅛@91½c.

Reports that the Balkan allies were demanding $200,000,000 indemnity led to considerable buying. The close was steady with September ⅛c net higher at 91⅜c.

CORN

Corn turned upward with wheat after early weakness due to rains in Iowa and northern Illinois. September opened at 61¾@61¾c, a loss of ⅛@⅜c, and then rose to 62@62⅛c.

Afterward the market again became depressed in consequence of reports of additional rains. The close was nervous at 61¾c for September, ⅛c under last night.

OATS.

Shorts taking profits overcame the effect of unloading by longs in oats. September, after starting ⅛@⅜c down at 41½@41¾c, reacted to 42@42⅛c.

PROVISIONS

Provisions showed steadiness with hogs. First sales varied from last night's level to 5c decline, including September options at $20.40 for pork, $11.22½ for lard and $11.67½ for ribs.

STOCK MARKET STILL DECLINES

New York, June 21.—The stock market closed weak. Unsettlement continued throughout the half day session, although trading grew quieter toward the close. Selling for both foreign and domestic account was on a large scale and business during the first hour was larger than the total transactions of either of the two preceding days.

Disturbed conditions in London and continental markets caused further liquidation abroad, resulting in foreign selling here. The chief depressing factor however, was the refusal of the interstate commerce commission to reopen the freight rate advance case.

Declines ranged up to about 2 points in several instances with the whole list showing material losses.

Bonds were heavy.

RAINS STEADY LIVE STOCK TRADE

Chicago, June 21.—Offerings of hogs were moderate enough today to preclude effective tactics for a decline. Trading, however, did not reveal any very active demand.

Rains, meaning better pastures, steadied the cattle market. Smallness of supplies in the sheep market made no impression. Buyers had most of their stuff consigned direct.

Toledo Seeds.

Toledo, O., June 21.—Clover: Cloverseed: Prime cash $12.50; October $9.17½; December $8.12½.

Alsike: Prime October $9.10; December $9.07½.

Timothy: Prime cash $2.30; August, September and October $2.45, December $2.50.

BOARD BLOWN FROM MOVING FREIGHT

Strikes Brakeman Rogers and Cuts Throat.

While Wabash freight train No. 70 was passing Catlin Friday afternoon, a loose board in one of its box cars was blown from its moorings and came into violent contact with the neck of Brakeman A. E. Rogers, who was employed on the work train at that point. The brakeman was severely cut about the throat and was hurried into Danville to the hospital, later being removed to his home in Peru.

Conductor E. L. Anderson and Engineer Jude were in charge of the freight train.

The accident proves the need of extreme caution to those about the right of way when a train is passing. Many fatal accidents have resulted from missiles dislodged and flying trains and no matter how careful the inspection, the constant air in transit cannot but loosen boards and freight.

MANY FIRES ALONG RAILROAD LINES

Road Locomotives Now Are Giant Destroyers.

Road locomotives have in the last week taken the form of giant destroyers leaving charred desolation and leaping flames in their wake. The heat and excessive dryness of the record breaking month have left grass and grain in such a withered condition that the smallest spark will start a conflagration which will reach for miles.

There is hardly a spot between Decatur and St. Louis on the Wabash right of way where smoldering tokens of a wayward engine spark do not line the way. At times far afield a flame will leap up after the train has passed, and gaining body and headway, sweep along for miles. Old timers say that prairie fires this month are the worst and most easily lighted which have been experienced for years.

DECATUR DIVISION BALLASTING.

An excess of new ballasting work on the Decatur division is demanding a great amount of material at present. The division is now obtaining material from four different sources and calling for more. Atica pits supply ballast for the new track work east of Hement, and Blue Mound, St. Louis and Missouri pits for ballast work between Taylorville and St. Louis.

Improvements in road bed on the south end are progressing rapidly and will soon be finished.

MACHINIST SHOCKED.

I. R. Moore, a machinist in the Wabash shops was painfully injured Friday afternoon when in working on an engine in the stalls he received an electric shock which hurled him from the top of his engine to the cement floor of the building. Face, hands, and right side were severely bruised but no fatal injuries resulted. He was hurried at once to the Wabash hospital where medical attention was at once given him. What caused the electricity to run [illegible] is not known.

Maintenance of Way Mascot.

A maintenance of way mascot has made his appearance in division headquarters in the form of a very young and very belligerent snapping turtle which when it grows up will be used as a protection for the hard worked inmates of the department against trespassers.

He has been given a pie tin filled with water for his home and is engaged in making the acquaintance of railroad men in general.

Car. Walmsley and W. Boland seem to exert the most influence over his actions. He has even been known to forego the engrossing entertainment of catching flies for their company.

New Freight House Foreman.

Henry Armour has been appointed to succeed William Powell as foreman of the Decatur Wabash freight house. Mr. Powell who came to Decatur from Danville recently has resigned his position here and returned to engage in other work there.

Chester Lambert who succeeds T. C. Burke as cashier in the freight house assumed his new position Friday after checking up ceremonies were gone through with by Ed [illegible] Francisco of St. Louis.

Hist! Ye Sherlocks.

Amateur detective work has been encouraged on the Wabash by the posting of a bulletin giving complete detail the description of the two highwaymen who so boldly relieved [illegible] of this week a goods out of Springfield on the Illinois Central Division Special the morning of the 18th. A reward of $1,000 has been offered and trainmen are looking [illegible] in hopes that a capture can be made.

Delinquency Charge.

A petition has been filed in the county court to have Vada L. Meadows declared delinquent and the hearing is set for June 30 at 9 o'clock.

In a Bad Way.

Post-Dispatch: "How's your husband this morning, Mrs. Jones?"

"He seems worse. The doctors are in a quorum about him, and are afraid the only thing to do is to give him hydraulic injunctions."

Lazy Man.

"Toodles is the laziest man I know. He has an invention fixed so that by merely pulling a wire in bed he can light the fire. But that don't seem to improve matters any."

"Why not?"

"He's too lazy to pull the wire."

She Was Satisfied.

Post Dispatch — "Oxygen, oxygen, madam. That is what you need," said the eminent specialist. "Come every afternoon for your inhalations. They will cost you $5 each."

"I knew our family physician didn't understand my case," declared the fashionable patient. "He told me all I needed was plain, fresh air."

Impossible.

THEATER CROWDED FOR THE EXERCISES

St. Theresa's Gives Diplomas to Ten Pupils.

Despite the extremely warm weather the Empress theater first floor was filled Friday night at the graduating exercises of the St. Theresa's class of 1913. The class colors, white and primrose, were in evidence and the ten members of the class in their graduating clothes made the stage a very pretty setting. The program rendered was exceedingly good just as the graduation programs have always been and bespoke much praise for the sisters who have so well trained the children.

OPENING CHORUS.

The graduating class gave the opening chorus, "Where the Rippling Waters Flow," Miss Vera Lee playing the accompaniment. In this number they gave evidence of being one of the best singing classes leaving the school. This was followed by Miss Margaret Clark's salutatory address of welcome. Then about twenty little girls appeared in a song and dialog, "Dolly, You Must Go to Sleep." Their piece was cleverly done.

"Papa's Letter," a little drama given by seven little girls, was very well done. "Hard Times in Boyland," by a score of small boys, and the dialog, "Fun in a Photograph Gallery," by about fifteen little girls and boys, were two other numbers to score hits with the audience.

BY SMALL BOYS.

"Bonnie Little Brownies," by a class of small boys, took well. It consisted of a drill and song by the boys, each representing some nationality. Their work was very good. An unplanned uproar was added to this number when one of the brownies dropped the pillow beneath his coat.

"Bobby's Experience with a Mustard Plaster," was a reading by Miss Lucille Hartten of the graduating class. Miss Hartten is especially talented in this line and added another pleasing feature to the program.

Other numbers which were very good and which added to the excellence of the program were "The Tea Party," an action song by several little girls, "The Bridge," a pantomime number and "The Jolly Blacksmiths," a chorus of young boys.

GRADUATING EXERCISES

After the close of this part of the program came the regular graduating exercises. The class sang its farewell song to the school and Miss Mary Goodman, valedictorian, delivered the closing address. The diplomas were then awarded by Rev. Father Murphy. Those receiving the diplomas were Margaret Clark, Mary Duggan, Mary Goodman, Lucille Hartten, Eleanor Yonkers, Mary Alice Bresnan, Isabelle Sullivan, Clara Fagan, Donald Houran and Roy Downing. The class motto is "Climb Though the Rocks Be Rugged."

THIRTY DELEGATES AT C. E. MEETING

More Expected At Afternoon Session.

About thirty delegates from out of town came this morning for the Central Illinois district Christian Endeavor convention which is in session today at the university. Many from the city societies also were present. It was expected the attendance this afternoon would be much largr. Many small towns in this vicinity, including Argenta, Cusner, Warrensburg, Niantic and other places, are represented at the convention.

MORNING SESSION.

The morning session opened with a song service by H. W. McDavid. The devotions were conducted by E. P. Gates, the field secretary. Short talks were made at the morning ssiion as follows:

"Why Have a Pledge?"—B. A. Million.

"What Can the Lookout Committee Do?"—Walter Hastings.

"Work for the Prayer Meeting Committee"—Verl Freyburger.

Making Mission Stuay Successful" Mrs. C. A. Faught.

CONFERENCE ON METHODS.

At 11 o'clock Mr. Gates conducted a conference on methods. After the conference the crowd went to Fairview park, where dinner was served in picnic style and some time was spent socially. The afternoon session was taken up at 1:30 at the university. The business of the convention takes place this afternoon.

LLOYD MOREY'S TALK.

A most impressive talk was made by Lloyd Morey of Urbana at last night's session, which was a rally of the city union. His subject was "The Union at Its Best" and he gave some good suggestions. Mr. Morey was formerly president of the Twin City Christian Endeavor union and is at present head of one of the departments in the state union.

A good sized crowd was present for the session Friday night. Considering the weather the attendance was very good.

JOHN TRAINER, OLD EDUCATOR, IS DEAD

Long Suffering from Cancer Comes to End.

HELPED THE SCHOOLS

Lived to See Ideas Adopted By Whole State.

John Trainer, father of the system of grading in rural schools, the course of study and the standardizing of rural schools, former county superintendent of Macon county, died at his home in Mena, Ark., at 10.30 Friday night. His death was due to cancer.

The growth first made its appearance on his neck and finally spread until nerve centers were involved. Everything possible was done to stay the advance of the disease, and many in Decatur contributed to a fund for the employment of a specialist to treat him, his funds having been exhausted.

HIS IDEAS GENERALLY ADOPTED.

He lived to see his educational ideas adopted all over the state of Illinois, but as his ideas were intended and utilized by him for the advancement of others rather than for pecuniary gain for himself, his only reward was the satisfaction of having accomplished a great work.

By systematizing school work both in the matter of study and of teaching, he did more for the rural schools than any other educator in Illinois. He might have copyrighted his ideas and grown wealthy from royalties, but instead of that he devoted the best years of his life to perfecting and advancing a system by which the boys and girls on the farm could acquire an education. He accomplished what he had in mind at the beginning, but he died a very poor man. He had expressed a wish that he might live until he had finished his autobiography, which was to include a history of his educational work. He suffered so much during the last year that he was not able to complete this last task.

He will be buried at Mena, Ark.

HIS TASK.

Mr. Trainer is survived by his wife, and two daughters by a former marriage, Amanda and Lillian, the former of whom is the wife of Fred Mann of Chicago and the other of whom is living in Redlands, Cal. He also leaves a brother, Frank Trainer of Blue Mound.

The story of John Trainer's early life is told in a Macon county history published at the time he was serving his first term as county superintendent of schools. The facts were doubtless furnished by Mr. Trainer himself. Mr. Trainer wrote for this history the chapter devoted to the schools of Macon county. The biographical sketch as it appears in this book is as follows:

BORN IN OHIO.

John Trainer was born Aug. 28, 1841, near the village of Wilkesville, Vinton county, O. When he was four years old his father moved to Columbia township, Miegs county, where young Trainer was brought up. The family had settled in the forest and the sons grew up in the clearing and were thoroughly inured to the hardships of the severest farm labor. John Trainer knew what it was to grub, to chop, maul rails, roll logs and plow.

This work did not allow much time for acquiring knowledge in the school room. After he was big enough to do any kind of work on the farm he was allowed to go to school only a short time in mid-winter and of rainy days. By the time he had reached his majority he made up his mind to get an education. Accordingly he hauled wood and coal in order to secure means to buy books and for the purpose of attending school. As soon as this was accomplished he entered Ewington Academy.

His funds were sufficient to enable him to remain there one year. He obtained a teacher's certificate and taught one year in Vinton county. He then attended Atwood Institute, Albans, Athens county, another year. After that he taught and attended this institute until he obtained what might be called a good academic education.

FARMHAND, THEN TEACHER.

In 1869 John Trainer came to Illinois and worked for Jesse Lockhart of Niantic as a farm hand. Mr. Lockhart finding that he was a teacher persuaded him to take a school in the fall of that year instead of going to Missouri as he had intended. He taught the school in the Dingman district that year and has taught continuously in the county till he was elected superintendent. He was elected county superintendent of schools in 1877.

Mr. Trainer is what he made himself—an industrious, practical man, a man of few theories, but when he has a theory he puts it to the practical test.

SERVED EIGHT YEARS.

Mr. Trainer was the eleventh county superintendent of schools of Macon county. He was elected in 1877 and at the close of that term was reelected, serving eight years or until 1885. He had previously taught in the county for eight years, at Peru, Blue Mound and elsewhere and one year in the Decatur schools. He had marked ability as a teacher. It was a genius with him. He had marvelous control of pupils and wonderful fertility of methods. When he was elected superintendent of schools he merely became the school master of the county. He united the rural schools of the county into a system working along a clearly defined plan toward a common purpose. He created in the teachers an esprit de corps which they had never known before. He inspired parents, pupils and teachers. He taught the 129 schools of the county through their teachers almost as directly as if he himself had been the teacher of all the schools. And yet he encouraged among his teachers initiation and originality. In his introduction to the Manual and Guide he says:

"The most successful teachers are those who from brief suggestions work out their own plans. It is results we want. 'By their fruits ye shall know them.'"

TRAINER'S MONUMENT.

The "Manual and Guide" is a monument to John Trainer and the benefits which it conferred upon the county, upon the state at large and upon other states are incalculable. The Manual and Guide marked the beginning of the grading of country schools. In it Mr. Trainer put into printed form his plan

JOHN TRAINER.

Vete an educator who died in Mena, Ark., Friday night after a long illness of organizing the country schools. From the very brief and simple form in which it first appeared it developed year by year into a booklet of some sixty pages. It was known as the "Macon County Plan." Other county superintendents took it up and printed manuals of their own, modified somewhat to meet their own ideas but based upon the Trainer manual. It grew finally into a state course of study which governs the rural schools of Illinois.

The state course went so much into detail and became so bulky that it was no longer the handy tool which Trainer originated. Two years ago members of a committee appointed to simplify this course were in conference with Mr. Trainer and he furnished them many valuable suggestions.

SYSTEMATIC COURSE OF STUDY.

The Manual and Guide was in substance a systematic course of study for the rural schools and provided monthly, central and final examinations. The questions for all of these examinations were prepared by the superintendent and were uniform for the county. The centrals and the final examination were conducted by the superintendent in person. They were a test upon the work provided by the course of study. The central examination was an examination of a group of schools brought together at some centrally located school house. The superintendent at the central examination came in close touch with the teachers and pupils of that group and helped in stimulating and inspiring them. The final examination was the final round up at the close of the year when pupils of certain grades from all over the county met in the county seat to be examined. Honors won at the centrals and finals were most highly esteemed. Each district vied with other districts in the central and with all of the districts of the county in the final.

BOOK IN LIBRARY.

The first book written by Trainer was "How to Study United States History," published by A. Flanagan & Co, Chicago. There is a copy of this book in the Decatur Public Library and it is the only one of Trainer's books in the library. On the fly leaf is written: "Presented to the City Library by Ye Pedagogue." The writing is the authors and it is fortunate that he was thoughtful enough to give it to the library.

While county superintendent Mr. Trainer wrote and published many leaflets and booklets which were mostly intended as helps to teachers, to stimulate and arouse the interest of pupils. One of the best of these perhaps was "Queer Queries" a collection of odd questions on all sorts of subjects.

One question was "Why does a dog always turn around before lying down?" It sounds foolish but it involved a most interesting fact of natural history.

INTO PUBLISHING BUSINESS.

At the close of his second term as county superintendent he went into the publishing business with George W. Patterson, the firm being known as Trainer & Patterson. Their place of business was the second floor of the building now occupied by the Barber & Cooper store. The mind of Trainer teemed with ideas, with school ideas mainly, but with ideas on many subjects. Trainer then had a reputation wider than the state as a school man and there was demand for his books and pamphlets. It was the intention of the firm to publish a line of school material and other things Trainer wrote. They published a school journal known as "Our Country & Village School."

FAILED IN BUSINESS.

Disaster overtook everything that Trainer attempted in a business way. He worked hard, lived simply and frugally but every enterprise which he touched in a business way went to pieces. Men have got rich on Trainer's ideas but his business life is a record of failure. He had genius and application but a hoodoo perpetually hovered over his business ventures. The firm of Trainer & Patterson failed. Among other misfortunes about this time Trainer's house burned and it was stated that many papers of value were destroyed.

Trainer left Decatur vanished absolutely from the ken of his friends, and was gone for a number of years. He returned no richer than when he left but still the resourceful school man. He taught two years in the county at Peru, the second school which he taught after coming here. Again he took to writing and undertook to publish a school help known as the Lesson Leaf. In this he was backed by old time friends but the venture was a failure. He taught in some other counties in the state and finally drifted to Mena, Ark., in the extreme western part of the state.

It was his intention to abandon school work and to live out the remainder of his life on that little farm. He attended a teachers' institute in the county, had something to say upon some subject that was before the institute and that ended the peaceful life upon the farm. He was literally thrust back into teaching. He continued to teach until physically disqualified by the ailment which finally cost his life.

TAUGHT MANY ABLE MEN.

No doubt there are hundreds of former pupils and teachers of the Macon county schools who would like to write a tribute to Trainer. A score of able men could easily be mentioned who taught under Trainer and have gone out to win success in other fields. One of these is Charles T. Powner, who is conducting a great book business in Chicago, and another is Charles M. Parker, who has grown wealthy in the publishing business at Taylorville. Parker's success is largely founded upon the school ideas of John Trainer. After Trainer left here the first time the work of publishing the Manual was forced upon Parker. Parker had neither the money nor the inclination to go into the publishing business but he was the one man who seemed best fitted to take up the work where Trainer left it.

Trainer was a quiet, even mannered man who never seemed to push himself or to care to make the slightest noise in the world. There was, however, in his quiet and grave manner, the impression of great reserve power. He was the inventor of many mechanical devices and other things. One of these was a device for calculating grain weights and values for the use of elevator men. It was known as a Cornmeter and was a sort of sliding scale adapted to the grain business. These instruments can be found in hundreds of grain offices in Illinois today and frequent inquiries are made by grain men as to where or how they may be had.

DIES AFTER THIRD PARALYTIC STROKE

Allen D. Avery Was Retired Farmer.

Allen D. Avery retired farmer, died suddenly at 4:20 Saturday morning at the family residence, 656 West Decatur street, following a stroke of paralysis. Mr. Avery was fifty-six years old, and this was his third stroke. He was first stricken two years ago. Some time ago he suffered a light stroke.

Friday evening he was out riding with members of his family until 9:30 o'clock and he seemed as well as usual. He had just retired for the night when he was stricken. Physicians were immediately summoned and they made every effort to save him, but he did not regain consciousness.

LIVED NEAR MOWAAQUA.

Mr. Avery was born Feb. 2, 1855 near Troy, Ind. He lived there until he was twenty-six years old and then came to Macon county, settling on a farm near Moweaqua. He engaged in farming there for twenty-two years. He retired nine years ago and moved to Decatur. He married twice. He had three children by his first marriage, Mabel K., Willis D., and Harry Avery. His second wife was Miss Myrtle Steele of Milam township, whom he married Dec. 25, 1897, at Decatur. Two children were born to them, Mervin Wayne and Ethel Frieda Avery. Mabel and Mervin died in infancy. Willis died Aug. 21, 1904. The others, with Mrs. Myrtle Avery, survive him. He had five sisters and three brothers, but all have died except two brothers, Scott Avery of Tobinsport, Ind., and Oren Avery of Indianapolis.

IN METHODIST CHURCH

He became a member of the Methodist church when a boy. When he moved to Decatur he transferred his membership to the First Methodist church. His death was a great shock to his family, although the physicians had told them on the occasion of his first stroke that he would probably go without any warning and that death might come at any time.

FUNERALS.

ORINTHA NELSON.

The funeral of Orintha Nelson was held at 5:30 Friday afternoon at the family residence, 2800 East Wood street. The services were conducted by Rev. R. T. Gasaway, assisted by Rev. Mr. Wood. The pallbearers were Carl Husher, Richard Harner, Willard Lindsey, Lauden McClure, Walter Whitsett and Arthur Hise. The interment was in Greenwood.

LOUIS JONES HAD A CHANGE OF HEART

Wound Did Not Prevent Second Escape.

Louis Jones changed his mind about coming in and giving himself up to the sheriff, Friday afternoon. Deputy Sheriffs Dan Sullivan and Jack Young with Mrs. Jones took a surrey and drove to Stevens creek.

Mrs. Jones went over to where her husband was waiting her aid tried to induce him to go back with the police. At that time it was thought that he would be willing to come back.

The police were about 200 yards away from him and they started toward him with the intention of bringing him in anyway, but as soon as he saw them he ran.

The wound in his hip didn't seem to bother him much, either, for he could travel faster than the officers and they came back without him.

His parents would rather he would give up and serve his time or be paroled as soon as possible than to have him roaming around over the country a fugitive.

WEST MAIN CASE UP TO SUPREME COURT

Attorney Boggess Says He Will Appeal.

The supreme court of Illinois will have an opportunity to pass on the legal objections to the assessment roll for the paving of West Main street, which were overruled by Judge O. W. Smith in the county court, declared Attorney W. Nay Boggess, he represents the objecting property owners. The appeal will not be prayed, however, until after the hearing on the benefits is held next Wednesday.

BOGGESS CITES POINTS.

Attorney Boggess says that there are several points on which he believes the supreme court will reverse the case. One of the principal points is that the city council in the ordinance provides for a switch track for the street railway company which in reality is a double track from Lincoln square to a point one block west of Pine street. This, he declares the council has no right to do; that it is in reality granting a franchise without giving the people a chance to vote on it.

Mr. Boggess says that in the event this objection is sustained it will disqualify the entire ordinance for it provides that the street railway company must pave between the double tracks and for a certain distance on each side, and if the "switch" track is knocked out there is no provision for paving that portion of the street and it will be necessary to draw up a new ordinance.

MUST PAY MORE

Corporation Counsel J. S. Baldwin says that the street will be paved, and that if the switch track feature is knocked out it will simply mean that the property owners will have to pay for that much of the paving that otherwise would have been paid for by the street railway company, which would mean that the paving the street will cost the property owners $12,000 more than it would otherwise.

"We are not particularly interested in the double-track," said Mr. Baldwin. "It simply means the widening of the street and the saving of $12,000 to the property owners, and that is what appealed to us. If the property owners would rather pay $12,000 more for the pavement and have a single track, all right."

JUDGMENT TAKEN UNDER ADVISEMENT

Question of Liability Confronts Court.

The appeal of the city of Decatur from the finding of the arbitration board in the case of Mary Brown, administratrix of the estate of John Edward Brown vs. the city, was taken up in the circuit court Saturday morning. Instead of hearing witnesses, the same testimony taken before the arbitration board was submitted in typewritten form.

Frank M. Cox, representing the Travelers' Surety company, in which the city is insured for such accidents, made the principal argument for the city. LeForgee, Vail & Miller represent the administratrix.

$2,496 AWARDED BY BOARD.

The arbitration board decided that the sum of $2,496 should be paid by the city on account of the death of Mr. Brown. The defense is that the city is not liable where an employe is injured by an outside force that could cause the same accident to anyone else and that the accident to Brown was the same kind that all humanity is subject to in crossing railroad tracks.

The evidence showed that Brown crossed the railroad tracks to sit down on a hand car while putting on a pair of rubber boots, and the contention is that he could just as well have put the boots on elsewhere or could have worn them home. When he put himself in a place of danger, it is declared he did it not as work connected with his employment, but to accomodate himself. The case was taken under advisement.

MARRIAGE ANNULLED.

The marriage of Laura L. Campbell and Harry Campbell was annulled by Judge Johns Saturday. The evidence in this case was heard at the October term. They were married at Vandalia, Oct. 29, 1911 when she was but fifteen years old. They lived together til Feb. 20, 1913, when she learned that such marriages were void under the law. She then left him.

INOCULATION AND ALFALFA FAILURE

Lack of inoculation accounts for most of the alfalfa failures that have been reported to L. F. Graber of the College of Agriculture of the University of Wisconsin secretary of the Alfalfa Order of the Wisconsin Experiment association.

About one-third of the total number of failures were caused by too thick seeding of the nurse crop that is over one bushel per acre of oats, barley or wheat. A few of the members of the order had poorly drained and sour soils and one man failed to get a stand because he seeded his alfalfa too late in the fall—after August 15.

Inoculation by spreading alfalfa or sweet clover soil over the field just previous to seeding would have prevented many failures.

Of course, with the best of care there will be some winterkilling due to smothering by the formation of ice sheets over the ground, or by the heaving action of frost.

ELECTRIFYING ALL OF TASMANIA.

When the water power of Great Lake, in the center of the island of Tasmania, is harnessed to electric generators the island will be almost completely electrified.

The island of Tasmania is located south of Australia. Its area is a little over 26,000 miles and it has a population of 191,000. In the middle of the island at an altitude of 3100 feet is the Great Lake, a storage reservoir provided by nature [illegible].

The area of this lake of water is forty-one of Tasmania's square miles. The outlet of this lake is the River Shannon. At this outlet a company has recently been formed to construct a weir to regulate the flow. The water will then be diverted from the Shannon into a canal from which steel pipes will lead so as to create an effective fall of water of over 1000 feet vertical.

It is calculated that in the power house to be erected at the foot of this fall electricity of the value of 85,000 horse power can be generated all the year around, sufficient to work the [illegible] of the whole island.

Hobart [illegible] in the south and Launceston in the north will be supplied from it, and there will be ample power to work the important mining fields of the west coast as well as the copper mines of Mount Lyell, the tin mines of Bischoff and the silver mines of Zeehan.
